DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 13 is objected to because of the following informalities: item (iii) "said fitting" lacks antecedent basis. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13,17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by USP 5,117,780 (Wooten et al.).

The Wooten et al. patent disclose an animal waste device comprising a container (35), a source of pressurized water (31), a pair of pressure nozzles (103) in communication with a fitting (99), and a nozzle retaining apparatus (101). Figure 8 shows placing non-human waste into the container and figure 4 shows the step of unblocking the pressurized water thereby watering and stirring the waste in a stirring motion from a distance.

Claims 13,14,18,19, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by USP 4,957,131 (Robinson).

Figure 1 shows the device used in the method which reads on the claimed method. The device comprises a container (22) with an open bottom which can be placed over top of animal waste on the ground.

Art Unit: 1744

The enclosure (22) is connected to a supply tube (42) which includes a valve (48) and a quick disconnect (41) that can be connected to a garden hose (44). The enclosure (22) includes a nozzle (81) having a sprayer (82). The nozzle (81) is considered to be adjustable since it has a fitting (84) which allows the tube (42) to be disconnected from the enclosure (22).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15 and 16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Ehrler and Loctin patents are generally related to the claimed invention.
